NEWS RELEASE

PUF Ventures Australia Files for Medical Research License in Collaboration with Western Sydney University

Vancouver, British Columbia / December 4th, 2017 – PUF Ventures Inc. (“PUF” or the “Company”) (CSE: PUF) (Frankfurt: PU3) (OTCPK: PUFXF), an advanced Access to Cannabis for Medical Purposes Regulations (“ACMPR”) license applicant, is pleased to announce that PUF Ventures Australia (“PUFA”) has filed application with the Australian Office of Drug Control to obtain a medicinal cannabis license and a cannabis research license in collaboration with the National Institute of Complementary Medicine (NICM), an Australian Health Research Institute based at Western Sydney University in New South Wales (NSW), Australia.

PUF Ventures Australia aims to conduct medical research with NICM’s academic input at its proposed Northern Rivers Project, in a 10,000-square foot dedicated laboratory, training center and research facility. When complete the facility will include an extensive 1,200,000 square feet medicinal cannabis cultivation greenhouse and extraction plant, to be located near Casino, NSW. PUF Ventures Inc. and MYM Nutraceutical are partners in the Northern Rivers Project.

“NICM is a world-class research institute, and this collaboration will allow for access to our planned state-of-the-art labs and greenhouse facilities,” said Michael Horsfall, CEO, PUF Ventures Australia. “NICM will provide their independent academic expertise to contribute to PUFA’s research agenda. This is a significant step forward to allow PUF Ventures Australia to focus on its mandate to develop innovative medicinal products.”

Professor Jerome Sarris, NICM Deputy Director sees tremendous mutual value in this evolving research relationship.

“As an institute specializing in medicinal plant research, to collaborate with an organization such as PUF Ventures Australia, with a grand and inspiring vision, holds significant medical potential,” said Professor Sarris. “There is a growing global appetite for ‘clean-green’ high-quality medicinal plants, and in particular, medicinal cannabis, which presents immense health opportunities. NICM engages in selective research collaborations in medicinal cannabis, and the PUFA Northern Rivers Project is a significant development in the field which we are proud to be involved with.”

The Northern Rivers Project is working with experts in Australia, Europe, and Canada in support of the application with the Australian government. The application will further scientific and medical research in the field of medicinal cannabis. PUF Ventures Australia is presently in discussions with NICM on a range of potential projects including women’s health disorders, multiple sclerosis, immune disorders, and the optimization of cannabis constituent profiles.

About NICM
